Briotix Health Merges with Atlas Injury Prevention Solutions

An opportunity to expand solution offerings

CENTENNIAL, CO – April 30, 2024

Briotix Health is pleased to announce the merger agreement with Atlas Injury Prevention Solutions (Atlas IPS). For more than two and a half decades, Atlas IPS has been a leader in injury prevention and management services, assisting clients across diverse industries in mitigating workplace injury risks. Their simple, measurable, and cost-effective solutions have consistently led clients to substantial improvements in worker health.

“The merger between Atlas IPS and Briotix Health is founded on a strong strategic fit,” noted Stephen Brown, CEO of Briotix Health. “With our alignment of services and expanded reach, we’re empowered to meet evolving workplace injury prevention needs and provide comprehensive solutions tailored to the unique challenges of varied industries.”

“We’re thrilled to unite Atlas and Briotix Health, leveraging our strengths to not only enhance services for our existing clients but also introduce comprehensive injury prevention solutions to new customers,” said Jim Landsman, President of Atlas IPS. “This partnership enables us to broaden our impact and provide top-tier injury prevention services across various industries.”

This combination reaffirms both companies’ dedication to providing the exceptional service their clients trust, delivered by the same committed individuals who have consistently earned their confidence. As the operational merger progresses, the integration of Atlas IPS into Briotix Health charts a path to sustained, long-term growth, offering enriched opportunities for both clients and team members alike.
