

Success Story Safely and Efficiently Returning to Work

EMPLOYEE AVOIDS EXTENSIVE WORK CONDITIONING PROGRAM WITH BRIOTIX HEALTH'S GRADUATED RETURN TO WORK SOLUTION

A wholesale retail employee, who had been on leave after an ankle injury, was prescribed a 40-visit work conditioning program to be cleared for return to work. Not only would this have taken weeks to complete but was extremely costly.

To fully understand the return to work requirements, and ensure the employee was getting the most effective course of treatment, the company sought the help of Briotix Health.

HOW DID WE HELP?

Briotix Health experts reviewed the employee's restrictions and developed a Graduated Return to Work (GRTW) plan that would allow the employee to resume their job under monitored guidelines while slowly ramping up to full duties.

The Briotix Health team discussed the GRTW plan with the treating Physical Therapist who agreed that the outlined program would better prepare the employee to safely return to work and deemed the prescribed 40 work conditioning sessions unnecessary.

In the customized GRTW program, the employee thrived and was able to safely return to full duty 30 days earlier than with the initial work conditioning program.

By implementing Briotix Health's GRTW plan, not only did the employee's health improve more quickly but the company experienced reduced costs.
